The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4 and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kasai et al.

See the injector of Fig. 1 supplied by a pipe 3, connected to a source which would inherently be controlled, thus meeting lines 8-12 of claim 1. Fig. 22 meets the angular orientation of lines 14-16 of claim 1.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1-2, 4 and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kasai et al, as applied supra, in view of Wang et al.

To provide the former with the controls as set forth in col. 3, lines 22-28 of Wang et al would have been obvious to the ordinary artisan as same are shown used in an identical art device.

Claims 3, and 5-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kasai et al as applied supra.

Art Unit: 3751

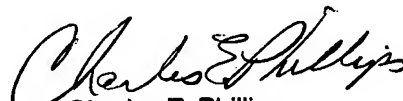

Further to provide any number of jets employing any pressure, speed, direction etc. desired, would have been obvious to the ordinary artisan, depending merely on the readily predictable wave action desired.

Claim 25 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The claims are objected as failing to be composed of proper grammar.

Claims 17-20, 24 and 26-30 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 8/5/05
